2017 SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

We are proudly promoting the 32nd Trakehner Breeders' Fraternity Annual Grading & Show. This event is run under our contract with the Trakehner Verband in Germany and attracts horse enthusiasts from across the country.

The event will be advertised on our website and in UK press with catalogues circulated throughout the Trakehner breeding world.

For more than 275 years Trakehners have been selectively bred using methods that are now emulated worldwide by Warmblood stud books. Why not be a part of this International breed?

Sponsorship proposals are welcome

For more details please contact Nicky Nash on 07786 804856 or show-organiser@trakehners.uk.com

Stallion Pre-Assesment

CLASS F 2 year old Trakehner colts registered with TBF

If you have a 2 year old colt that you wish to have pre-assessed to see if it is worth keeping entire to present in UK as a 3 year old then we added a new pre-assessment class at the Annual Grading and Show last year. You can enter this class and bring your colt forward to the Grading judges and they will give you an honest critique on your colt and give you guidance on whether they feel he is a stallion prospect. Please Note: If the judges advise that your colt is a stallion prospect, this is NOT a guarantee that he will be approved, simply an indication that it is worth giving him the chance. Breeders are reminded that the standards for a stallion to be approved are extremely high. Trot up and individual show "on the triangle" will be on Saturday. Times will be sent to you before the day of what time to present your colt.

Trakehner Breeders' Fraternity Stud Books

There are four parts to the TBF Stud Books and Registers which are administered under strict rules set by the Trakehner Verband in Germany and EU Directives. A horse has two qualifications; those it gets from its own breeding and those it acquires to be placed into the breeding section of the Stud Books. The term 'grading' refers to the selection process to bring a horse into the breeding section of the Stud Books. The following is a general guide to eligibility for the stud book breeding sections:

Main Stud Book

Trakehner mares by graded stallions out of graded mares achieving an overall grading average score of 6, with no single mark below 5.

Preliminary Register Trakehner Mares who score grading marks over 48 with no single mark below 5

Thoroughbred, Anglo Arab or Arab mares achieving grading marks of 48 or above.

The title Premium Mare is awarded to any mare achieving 53 – 53.5 grading marks with a performance test of 7.0. Mares with 54 marks or more require a performance test of 6.5.

Stud Book

Trakehner mares by graded stallions out of registered Trakehner mares (four generations) and all other Trakehners who score a grading average of 5 with no mark below 4.

Preliminary Register Trakehner Mares who score grading marks over 42 with no single mark below 5

Thoroughbreds, Anglo Arab or Arab mares that score a grading average of 6, with no single mark below 5.

Preliminary Register

Trakehner mares, Thoroughbred, Anglo Arab and Arab mares, as well as their crossbreds, which cannot enter into one of the above stud books. Specifically designed for TB, AA and Arab mares which have not been graded into one of the stud books.

Part-Bred Register

Any horse with at least 25% blood of Trakehner origin

Marking System - Marks are awarded for the following:

Prior to 1994, the marking system was for type, conformation, regularity of movements, impulsion and overall impression.

Marks, awarded out of 10, have the following general meaning:

N.B. Older mares may show marks reversed: i.e. 1 =

exceptional

Mares' Performance Test and Premium Mares

The evaluation objective is to assess the suitability of the mare to improve offspring towards the breeding goal of The Trakehner Breeders' Fraternity: to produce a better riding horse. Although primarily intended for mares, geldings are allowed to carry out this test as an indication of their riding qualities.

Expected standards for presentation for the test:

- ☞ Horses to be three years or older
- ☞ Problem free mounting and dismounting; both rider and test rider
- ☞ Basic Rideability
 - ability to perform the three basic paces, demonstrated on a circle and change of rein through the length of the arena (to be ridden in snaffle bridle).
 - during the test – lengthen the stride (no medium trot)
 - problem free change into canter on both reins (vocal assistance permitted)
- ☞ Free jumping

The Evaluation Procedure:

- Horses to appear in the arena two at a time, in groups decided entirely by the judges
- The judging commission will consist of two Trakehner judges and one recognized test rider
- The elements of the evaluation are as follows:
 - Conformation - Three basic paces— walk, trot, canter on both reins (judged under own rider)
 - Rideability (judged by test rider)
 - Jumping ability (1m max height; distance approx 6.7 –7.0m between three jumps)
 - Marking - Half marks may be award

Free jumping:

This will be set up as a lane, with a wall on one side, and a line of wings and poles on the other. There will usually be three jumps, two uprights and a spread to finish, set at suitable distances apart (either bounce or stride) as decided by the judges. It is recommended that you practice both distances with your horse when training.

A catching pen with a large “stopping” fence at the end will be constructed in order to save time with catching the horses. We will endeavor to put the stopping fence far enough away from the final jump so as not to make the horse back off. The handler is advised to lead the horse slowly into the lane before release, rather than charging him towards it, and should catch the horse at the other end. Stewards will be present to assist both handler and the judges. The judges will determine the raising of jump heights etc, according to what they see, and their aim is to uncover the ability of the horse, not to catch him out.
